VINANCE AND TRADE.

THE BANKS on Madison street nad an exceeding dull day's business yesterday. The war news, that has awakened the western cities to the highest pitch of excitement, has caused a full here, of erators in cotton pausing for the effect of the Europeam commotion on the staple. As cotton is not "material of war," nor a kind of provision used for warlike purposes—not even excepting gun cotton—there THE BANKS on Madison street had an nor a kind of provision used for warlike pur-poses—not even excepting gun cotton—there is not that harrying to speculate in it we see in discrand bacon. Good was unsettled and vaciliating in Wali street; the quotations from the opening up to noon were 100%. 100%, 111% and 111; here brokers were offering from 100% to 116. The Chicago Tribuse of Tuesday reports activity in bank transactions, increased demand for accommodations the country people and pork packers borrowing liberality; the supply of capital is ample but midsummer rates are no longer to be had and there is closer discrimination. The pricefor silver[is again bacoming a subject of sai atton in Europe, and must effect us here, in consequence of Prushia having withdrawn its (wo-thaier silver coins from circulation, thus increasing the amount of silver liable to come hro the market; this checks the upward tendency of that smount of silver limble to come into the market; this checks the upward tendency of that metal. A London telegram, towever, states that Germany proposes to submit to the next parliament the propriety of largely increasing her silver comage, on the ground that the present amount in circulation is insufficient. Should this prove to be correct, the effect in enhancing the market vaine of silver will be very great. The Now York Bulletin states: "The London price of silver was 52%d per ounce With demand sterling bills 45, the New York equivalent of the London price is $114 per ounce. 1000 fine, or, deducting ex-New York equivalent of the London price is $1.13 per ounce, 1909 fine, or, deducting expenses, $1.135. At this, the gold value of the trade dollar is $9.895, and the gold value of the silver dollar would be $9.875. The government, however, is buying silver here at $1.15 per ounce, 1600 fine. At the latter price, the gold value of the trade dollar would be $9.9056, and of the old silver dollar at $0.8884." There is an active inquiry for Memphis gas stock, and it is said $906 has been offered. As no change has taken place in the gas company or its prospects since some weeks are. or its prospects since some weeks ago, when 8 or is prospects since some weeks ago, when so was the last offer to be had, there is some surprise at the reasons for the change, and who was is the stock? Is a question asked with much interest. Quotations of stocks and scrips have undergone to change, and no transactions are reported.

THE PRODUCE MARKET was dull yes-terday, not a bost came in, and there * as scant material for business. Cora is still the subject of attention. Persons who have been in the signent country in various directions report it to be abundant, and selling on the spot at extremely low rates, but so busily is every "hand" engaged in picking cotion that it is not possible to get any large amount of it sent at once to the market; it is also said that many of the largers have got the idea from many of the farmers have got the idea from the recent advance here that it will go up to perpetually in the market, boying "driblet." from day to day. A faise sppearance of activity is thus created; corn is taken with avidity, but the aggingate of the sales is very light. Every dealer expects corn to come in superabundance as soon as there is thor to shell, sack and ship it. Then the price is expected to be from 40c to 45c; this is why no dealer will keep any amount of stock on hand. The advent of war in Europe, however, is sure to make corn higher than was looked for before things came to that crisis. There was a sale of a small jot of old ear corn at 44c, and we heard waiting for the 'old man' to die such honors will be paid you, such a runeral will be yours? Ah, no! The man to whom all these honors were paid was the 'corrier of water and the hewer of wood' of forty years ago. It was James Howard—a man whose name will live fresh in the memories of men, while all such as you mutton-headed young men, who have no trades, will be deao and forgotten before the sod grows green over your graves. Go and learn a trade." Steam Steering Apparatus. Weather and River Chronicle.

The following from the Courier-Journal will be of interest to pilots who nearly pull themselves in two at the wheels of the mammoth hulks now necessary to the great commerce of the Mississippi valley: "Walter, of Cairo, writes: The John N. Macomb is supplied with a very useful invention, by which steam is made to do the heavy work in steering her. It works to a charm, and takes the strain off the pilot-wheel so completely that it can be moved, even when navigating a heavy current, by a touch of a single finger. It is the invention of Major Charles R. Suter, of the United States engineer corps. It consists in a shaft that runs across beneath the pilothouse and has a drum at each end, over which the tiller ropes are wound by two turns before leading up to the pilot wheel, as in other steamers. The shaft is revolved by an engine that is constantly going one way, and the draws turn levely in the turns of the tiller. The weather continues warm, with ndications of rain increasing. Therivers are broulded in the following table and dis-Water.

Feet. | In's. | Ree | F'll | Deg. that is constantly going one way, and the drums turn loosely to the turns of the tiller-ropes until the ropes are made tant by a slight movement of the pilot wheel, when they move the rudders with an irresistible power move the radders with an irresistion power. The drums are loose on the shart, and are moved by a rachet wheel, so that when anything goes wrong with the engine, the steering can be accomplished the same as of oid. Tow boats that are so heavily to steer as to require the labor of two men to hold them should have this attachment put on immediately."

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Moneymaking Machine to every Cotton -roducer or ginner,-thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Teasn from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the list from one to four grades.

No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn. Send for Circulars and Price list.

Readwhat is said of the "C. C. C." by those who have fully tested it: MESSES ALLISON BROTHERS, Memphis, Tenn.:

Gentlemen—I have, during the past season, had in successful operation the "C. C. C." purchased of you. I am greatly pleased with it, and consider it an absolutely indispensable machine in every gin-house. All its claims have been fully sustained, and I think you have not, in the least, exaggerated its merits. It certainly takes all the dust and dirt out of cotton, leaving it in a beautiful condition for the work of the gins. Its most apparent benefit is, of course, upon the lower grades, but I believe it will very much enhance the quality of all cotton—the first as well as the last pickings. Yours, truty.
